Defense Fails in an Attempt to Punish Editors.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—AN UNSUCCESSFUL EFFORT BY THE DEFENSE TO HAVE NEWSPAPER MEN PUNISHED FOR ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT IN PUBLISHING STRICTURES ON THE COURT CONDUCT OF COUNSEL, AND AN ENDEAVOR BY THE DEFENSE TO ASCERTAIN WHETHER IT IS THE PURPOSE OF JUDGE DUNNE TO REDISQUALIFY THE SHERIFF AND THE CORONER FOR PERSONAL INTEREST AND DIRECT THE ELIOR TO DRAW A SPECIAL VENIRE FROM THE BODY OF THE COUNTY, INSTEAD OF SELECTING ANOTHER PANEL FROM THE REGULAR JURY LIST, WERE THE FEATURES OF TODAY'S TRIAL OF ABRAHAM RUEF FOR EXTORTION, WHICH LASTED ONLY THREE MINUTES, WHEN ADJOURNMENT WAS TAKEN UNTIL TOMORROW ON THE PLEA OF HENRY ACH THAT HE WAS SUFFERING FROM A SEVERE HEADACHE, AND WAS NOT IN PHYSICAL CONDITION TO PROCEED WITH THE EXAMINATION OF TALESME.

CHIEF DINAN'S CASE

BY CONSENT THE CASES AGAINST CHIEF OF POLICE DINAN FOR PERJURY AND THE CASE AGAINST RUEF AND DINAN FOR CONSPIRACY, WERE CONTINUED FOR TWO WEEKS. THE FOUR CASES OF EXTORTION AGAINST MAYOR SCHMITZ (THE FIFTH IS IN THE SUPREME COURT ON APPLICATION FOR HABEAS CORPUS) WERE CALLED, AND BOTH SIDES ANSWERED "READY." BUT AS THESE CASES FOLLOW THE RUEF CASES IN ORDER OF TRIAL, THEY WERE CONTINUED FOR TWO WEEKS.

Battle Over Jurors Arouses Attorneys

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The case of Abraham Ruef, charged with extortion, was continued in Judge Dunne's court this morning until tomorrow at 10 o'clock owing to the illness of Attorney Ach, who is in charge of the defense of the accused.

The request for a continuance was made by Ach himself who said he had been ordered by his physicians to take a rest.

It was granted, however, against the protest of the prosecution because it was coupled with a request by Ach that the court draw 100 or 200 names from the 2000 names of citizens which are now known to be in the jury box. This request was based upon the fact that a jury could not be selected from the names now in the jury box in Judge Dunne's court. It was also coupled with the statement that the defendant would use all his peremptory challenges in the matter of selecting a jury.

JOHNSON AGREED.

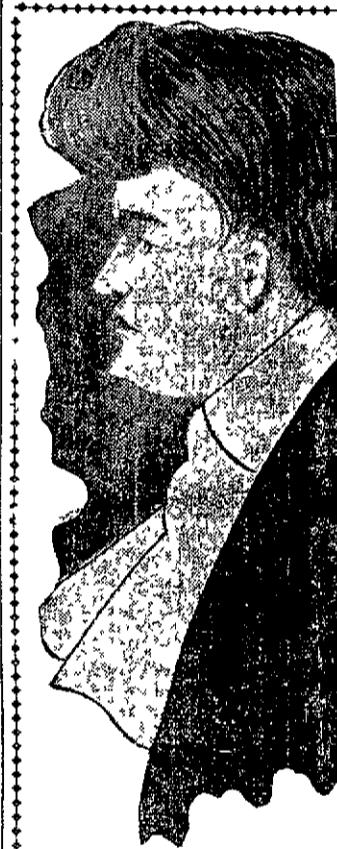

Attorney Johnson, for the prosecution said that he had agreed to an adjournment with Ach but that he would oppose the continuance if that gentleman did not withdraw his application for the drawing of other names from the jury box until at least those available to the court should be exhausted. He said the request for such a proceeding was a technical artifice for the defendant to take advantage of a continuance pending the drawing of the jury.

ACH DENIES.

Ach denied that he desired to practice artifice. The court stated that it would be time enough to think about drawing other names from the jury box when the names now available were exhausted. He accordingly denied the motion for the drawing of other jurors by granting the continuance until tomorrow.

The cases against Chief of Police Dinan on the charge of perjury, and against Dinan and Ruef on the charge of extortion, and against Mayor Schmitz on the ground of extortion al-so, were continued for two weeks.

BEAUTIFUL GIRL NOW CRIPPLED

Christina Bergner, a San Francisco girl, who was run over by the Berkeley train.

Train Runs Over Both Her Legs Early This Morning.

Awful Accident to a San Francisco Woman Who Attended Picnic.

On the middle of the culvert crossing the Key Route tracks at Emeryville with a train coming from either direction and unable to leap to safety, 17-year-old Christina Bergner, a pretty laundress residing at 106 Shotwell street, San Francisco, was run over by the Southern Pacific northbound Berkeley train at 1 o'clock this morning and now lies on a cot in the Receiving Hospital with both legs amputated above the knees. She has but a slight chance for recovery.

Miss Bergner was one of a party of picnickers who had spent the day at the bartenders' picnic at Saell Mount Park. With her sister, Ella, Harriett Elliott and David Lang, she was walking along the track toward the Sixteenth-street station to catch the last train to the city. They had been at Emeryville and were not in any hurry to catch the train so when it was suggested that they might walk to the depot the little party of merry-makers set out for that place.

"We were on the culvert when the first train appeared in sight," said Miss Ella Bergner this morning at the Receiving Hospital. "Some of us were a little behind my sister, who had taken the lead. She saw the sec-

THAW SOON TO HAVE VERDICT

Opening Argument by Delmas in the Great Murder Trial.

Prisoner Expects Decision of Jury by the End of This Week.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Mr. Delmas declared Stanford White had committed a felony in his assault upon Evelyn Thaw.

Mr. Delmas began his address by quoting from a statement by District Attorney Jerome. He said:

"We have no right to be here trying this man if the real facts were known."

Mr. Delmas said he would ask acquittal upon the written law of the State of New York.

Delmas gave a resume of Evelyn Nesbit's life.

NEW YORK, April 8.—A verdict in the Thaw case may be reached Wednesday night. When the trial was resumed today Justice Fitzgerald overruled District Attorney Jerome's formal protest against the confirmation of the report of the commission on lunacy which declared Thaw sane. The justice signed the report and ordered that the trial proceed.

Dr. Allen McLean Hamilton was called as the last witness, but the district attorney objected to his testifying at this stage of the case. The objection was sustained and then both the defense and the people announced that they rested.

Mr. Delmas will begin his summing up address at 2 p.m., the jury having been excused until that hour to get their personal affairs in shape. Beginning this afternoon, the jurors will be confined until the end of the trial.

Mr. Delmas said he might conclude his speech tonight. If he does so, Mr. Jerome will speak tomorrow. If Dr. Delmas should not finish until tomorrow, however, the district attorney will not begin his address until Wednesday morning.

Justice Fitzgerald is expected to charge the jury the same day Mr. Jerome closes.

LAST WEEK.
NEW YORK, April 8.—When the Thaw trial was restored this morning it was believed it had at last entered upon its final week. Eleven weeks already had been consumed in the trial, making it the longest in the history of New York's criminal courts.

Harry K. Thaw's family were in court early and took the seats they have occupied on all occasions when they have been allowed in the courtroom. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw wore the familiar blue suit and the black sailor hat which several days ago replaced the blue one trimmed with vi-

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE IN CITY OF NEW YORK

Street Car Barn and Power Plant Burned and Fire Captain Is Killed--Others Injured.

NEW YORK, April 8—Fire early today destroyed the combine car barn and power plant of the New York City Railway Company, covering the greater part of the block bounded by Lenox Avenue and 116th and 117th streets. The loss will reach nearly $1,500,000.

More than 300 cars were burned and the plant, excepting the electrical equipment, was destroyed.

One fireman, Captain F. J. Ryan, was killed under a falling wall and half a dozen firemen and others were more or less seriously injured. The injured:

F. J. LEOPOLD, assistant engineer foreman.

WILLIAM SYMES, fireman.

ANTHONY MOORE, car inspector.

THOMAS FRANCIS, spectator.

JAMES CANNON, laborer.

MRS. MARY E. LAWSON, overcome by smoke.

None of the injured are in a dangerous condition.

The fire started in a big repair room, where a large number of cars were stored, and spread rapidly through the whole building. Captain Ryan's engine with his crew and the crews of two other engines were

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED AND SEVERAL PEOPLE INJURED

Struck by Key Route on the Twenty-Second Street Crossing, Near Telegraph Avenue.

In a collision with a Key Route train at Twenty-second and Telegraph avenue, the big touring automobile of Jake Pantoskey was totally wrecked and his wife and child badly bruised and shaken up on Sunday afternoon. Fortunately for all concerned the train only struck the machine a slanting blow in the rear as it was passing over the tracks, thus saving the lives of the car's occupants.

According to the story told by the motorman, Mr. Pantoskey himself was driving the car. His wife and child were seated in the tonneau. The injuries they received are said to be slight. It is said that there were two friends of the Pantoskeys in the auto and that these were also bruised, the man in particular receiving a painful cut on the forehead.

The flatman at the crossing claims that he was standing in the middle of the street with the danger flag in his hand and that he warned the driver of the machine of the approaching train. According to his story Pantoskey failed to stop and attempted to dash across the tracks, hoping to get safely over before the train reached the crossing. The flatman's story is

BIRTH SOCIETY KILLS ITSELF

Mexican Journalist Points Our Constitutional Law and Goes to Prison.

EL PASO, Texas, April 8—Because he had been arguing that Enrique C. Creel, Ambassador of Mexico to the United States, could not be elected Constitutional Governor of the State of Chihuahua, Silvestre Terrell, editor of "El Correo," a daily newspaper of high standing in the state of Chihuahua, is in jail.

Creel's father was an American citizen, which fact, according to the constitution of the State of Chihuahua, renders him ineligible to the office of Constitutional Governor. His father-in-law, General Terreros, has been the Constitutional Governor of the State for many years, and Creel has been a substitute or acting Constitutional Governor and a avowed candidate for Constitutional Governor. El Correo is opposing his candidacy and has quoted from the constitution those sections which show his ineligibility.

The arrest has caused a profound sensation throughout northern Mexico, and is being used not without effect by the agitators against the Diaz government, the so-called "revolutionaries."

OLD DEY HOUSE TO BE PRESERVED. Arrangements have just been completed whereby the historic "Bloombury Manor," also known as the "Dey House," at Patterson, N. J., will soon pass into the possession and become the home of the New Jersey Historical Society. The property has been purchased by ex-Governor Murphy and will be turned over to the society as soon as the necessary papers are completed.

The "Dey House" was erected in 1742 by the late Daniel Dey, who was a prominent merchant in New York. It is in Lower Breckinridge, about two miles from Patterson. It is in a remarkably good state of preservation. A while ago it was owned by William H. Belcher, Patterson's absent-minded son. He sold it and the present owner, an ex-Governor Murphy, has now bought it from the purchaser for the Historical Society.—New York Evening Post.

ELIHU ROOT MAY RESIGN

Rumor Says He Is Not in Sympathy With the President.

WASHINGTON, April 8—One of the rumors current today as a result of the excitement of the last week over the sensational charge made at the White House concerning a political conspiracy against the President is that Elihu Root is to leave the cabinet. The reason given for his reported retirement is that he is put off by the administration and that this has been growing more evident as the political plans of the President have developed. The story goes that Secretary Root strongly urged the President not to answer the Harriman letter, but to ignore it. He is said to have been surprised greatly at the action of the President in giving out the remarkable story of the rich men's conspiracy against him and his policies.

ROOT'S RETIREMENT.

There is some basis for the rumor of Root's retirement in the fact that the President has come out in favor of Secretary Taft for the next Republican nomination. For a time it looked as if President Roosevelt wanted Root as his successor, and it is believed by many that he encouraged the Secretary of State in this idea. It is pointed out that if Root has any presidential aspirations he could more consistently foster them outside the cabinet than as a member of the President's family in the present state of affairs.

Captain of Battleship Georgia Interfered With "Sky Pilot."

WASHINGTON, April 8—Captain Richard G. Davenport, commander of the battleship Georgia, has just received a severe call-down from the Navy Department for interfering with the development of religious thought among the "Jackies" of the Georgia.

Complaint was made by the ship's chaplain, Charles M. Charlton. He reported to the department that owing to the hostile attitude of Captain Davenport it was impossible for him to attend to his duties as chaplain. He declared that Captain Davenport appeared to have no sympathy with his efforts to keep the enlisted men in the straight and narrow path, and that his labors among them were being sadly interfered with and restricted.

CHAPLAIN'S PLAINT.

Chaplain Charlton cited a number of instances to show how he was being handicapped by the commanding officer. He alleged that the naval regulations, which require that divine service shall be held every Sunday, were being repeatedly violated.

Captain Davenport defended his action in not holding divine services on Sunday by stating that conditions were not favorable for devotional exercises. Secretary Metcalf decided that Captain Davenport's explanations were not satisfactory and that the complaint of the chaplain was well founded. A letter was sent to Captain Davenport containing a reprimand and directing that the naval regulations with regard to divine services be strictly observed in the future.

GAVE IT AWAY IN HER SLEEP

That's How Pistol Shots Were Fired at Him by Architect.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8—Fannie Jacobs Kiel, a vivacious modiste who makes shirt waist for the smart set, takes in her sleep, her husband says, and it was this fact which caused him to discover her flirtation with Bernard Silberberg, an architect, and led to revolver shots in the rear of the Hotel Lorraine at 1635 Sutter street Saturday night.

Irving Kiel says he surprised his wife and Silberberg as they were about to enter the hotel and that the latter drew a revolver and began firing at him. He intends to swear out a warrant for the architect's arrest today on the charge of "assault with intent to kill" and also begin divorce proceedings against his wife.

FIRED THREE SHOTS.

Three shots were fired by Silberberg at Kiel, but none of them took effect. Kiel, who crocheted on the stairway, while the shooting was going on, when it was over she fled from the Lorraine and went into hiding.

Silberberg, who is employed by Landsberg & Joseph, architects, at O'Farrell and Franklin street, is telling stories that Kiel was armed and that he fired in self-defense.

"If I was armed," declared Kiel last night, "I would have killed them both on the stairs of the hotel."

MET AT A BALL.

Kiel and Fannie Jacobs were married less than a year ago by Judge Carroll Cook. Kiel met the modiste at a masquerade, and says he was instrumental in securing her for the patronage of the aristocratic women for whom he has been making shirt waists.

When the fire last April burned the modesty shop downtown, Kiel saved a lot of silk, muslin and chiffon, he says, and enabled her to start in business again at Van Ness avenue and O'Farrell street. They were married shortly after, the wife keeping her shop and Kiel sticking to his occupation as a shirtwaist salesman.

Silberberg and the modiste met about a month ago, Kiel says and she frequently talked about the architect in her sleep. Kiel and the architect had a fight over the flirtation and the latter was warned to stop playing the salliant to the salesman's wife.

BRITISH SHIP GOES ASHORE

War Vessel Runs on Rocks and It Badly Damaged—Hole in Stern.

DEVONPORT, England, April 8—The British battle-ship Trafalgar went ashore today upon the rocks of Devil's Point behind the naval victualling yard at East Stonehouse while proceeding to Plymouth Sound from Devonport. It was believed that her stern had been badly damaged.

Six tugs succeeded in refloating the Trafalgar an hour after she went upon the rocks. The warship was taken into the harbor, where she will be docked. There was considerable water in her forward compartment.

The Trafalgar is a second class battleship of about 12,000 tons, completed in 1890, and carrying four 13-inch guns, six 6-inch guns, eight 6-pounders and a number of smaller rapid fire guns. Her crew consists of 672 officers and men.

They have successfully prosecuted this appeal and her case is set for argument on April 22. For lack of funds they are buy her a box.

Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—The final action in the cases of Mrs. Aggie Myers and Frank Hottman, under sentence of death for the unusually cold-blooded murder here on May 11, 1904, of the woman's husband, Clarence Myers, a pressman, will be taken today by Governor Folk at Jefferson City.

The brutality of the murder, the calm demeanor of Mrs. Myers from the time of her arrest, nearly three years ago, and the strenuous efforts through petitions and appeals to save the woman from the gallows have made the case one of the most noted in Missouri criminal history.

The woman had been divorced before she married Myers. After her marriage to Myers, she fell in love with Hottman, who lived in Higginsville, Mo., her former home. They conspired to murder Myers so they could get married and when all arrangements were completed she sent Hottman money to come to Kansas City. She admitted him to the house after midnight and directed him to the bedroom where Myers lay asleep. Myers arose in bed when Hottman struck him with a club made from the butt end of a billiard cue.

The man clinched and wrestled into another room where the woman came to Hottman's aid. Mrs. Myers hit her husband with a bed slate, she stabbed him with a piece of scissors as she wrestled, and as he cried to her, "Help me, Honey, help me," she ran to a bureau, took out his razor and slashed him nine times across the face and through the chest. Hottman's clothes were blood-soaked and he gave him her husband's shirt and hat and he went away. She stayed alone in the house with the body the remainder of the night and washed up blood and burned her night gown. At daylight she called for help and said negro burglars had committed the crime.

Hottman was caught in Walla Walla, Washington. He confessed. He made no defense in his trial for murder and was convicted January 14, 1905.

Mrs. Myers took a change of venue to Clay County.

Hottman was one of the chief witnesses against her. She was convicted June 11, 1905. Mrs. Myers has never confessed. She denounces Hottman as a liar, declaring she is innocent.

Mrs. Myers is in the county jail at Liberty, Mo. Hottman is in jail at Kansas City. He has just recovered

DELMAS' GREAT SPEECH

NEW YORK, April 8.—Mr. Delmas seemed determined to base his whole plea for Thaw's life upon his wife's story.

lets which she wore during the early days of the trial. She occupied a seat upon the aisle. Next to her sat Mrs. William Thaw, the Countess of Yarmouth and Edward Thaw. In the front row of seats were Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carnegie and Josiah Thaw.

JUDGE LATE

Justice Fitzgerald was a few minutes late in taking the bench. When he did so and before the jury had been brought into the room District Attorney Jerome arose and said he would formally ask that the report of the commission in lunacy which declared Thaw sane be not confirmed. He had no argument to offer.

Justice Fitzgerald reached for the commission's report, which lay on his desk and signed his name across it.

"The trial will proceed, he ordered."

The jury filed into the box and Harry Thaw was called to the bar.

SUSTAINED OBJECTION.

Mr. Delmas of counsel for the defense asked the clerk to call Dr. Alan McLane Hamilton, the alienist who was upon the stand when the trial was interrupted more than two weeks ago. Mr. Delmas wanted to get from Dr. Hamilton the opinion that Thaw was insane when he killed Stanford White.

As soon as Dr. Hamilton was seated in the witness chair District Attorney Jerome objected. He said Dr. Hamilton should have been called as a witness by the defense in its direct case.

In Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection.

After he had done so Mr. Delmas argued that Dr. Hamilton should be allowed to testify for the reason that Mr. Jerome had on the last day of the trial said he would withdraw his objection if Dr. Hamilton was allowed to tell everything.

OFFER ACCEPTED

We accepted that offer," said Mr. Delmas, and therefore we feel that we have the right to proceed under agreement.

The court as I understand the law," said Justice Fitzgerald, "has no discretion in the matter there was no occasion to rule upon the question when it came up before. Had it come up at that time I would have been forced to rule as I now rule."

After a moment's consultation with the other attorneys, Mr. Delmas said:

The defense rests."

The people rest," said Mr. Jerome.

Justice Fitzgerald then announced that in view of the importance of the case he thought it would be necessary to keep the jury together until the close of the trial. He therefore ordered that the jury be confined under the same conditions as at the beginning of the trial. Mr. Jerome suggested that as this would be something of a hardship on the jurors who had had no notice of it they should be allowed to go until 2 o'clock in order to arrange their affairs.

TAKES RECESS

Justice Fitzgerald agreed and a recess until 2 o'clock was ordered. Justice Fitzgerald asked the attorney to submit to him in writing any request they might have to make as to his charge to the jury.

Mr. Delmas announced that he would begin his summing up address at 2 o'clock. District Attorney Jerome asked if he could be given an idea of the time the defense would require.

In a case of this character, said Mr. Delmas, where the testimony has been so voluminous and where there have been so many interruptions I deem it my duty to refresh the minds of the jurors as to the testimony as far as possible. It may take two, or three or four hours to do this. My remarks are not concluded tonight and I find it necessary to intrude into tomorrow's session.

I shall agree to an adjournment until the next day to meet the district attorney's request that he be allowed a day to himself." With the trial finished save for the summing up, the belief that the jury will disagree is growing among those who have been attending since its beginning. The trial has been the longest ever held in New York and Justice Fitzgerald will not allow the jury to be discharged until it is certain that there is no chance of

MAY BRING TO CLOSE GRAND JURY PROBING

This Afternoon's Session Will Probably Complete Investigation of Two Telephone Companies.

SAN FRANCISCO April 8—This afternoon's session of the Grand Jury may bring to a close that body's investigations of alleged bribery and graft in connection with the obtaining of franchises by the Home and Pacific States Telephone companies. their agreeing. If they do not announce a disagreement he will without doubt send them back to the jury room again and keep them there as long as there is a chance to get an agreement. A disagreement would mean that Thaw would be obliged to remain in the Tombs until his regular turn came again probably late in the fall.

NEW YORK April 8—One of the spectacular moments in the Thaw trial was that in which Delphin M. Delmas rose to address the jury for the defense. It was his sensational plea to be twelve men who are to pass upon the fate of Harry K. Thaw and no stage setting could be better set than were the surroundings in which the attorney found himself when with a bow to the court and to the jury he began in the argument that promised to be interesting as many of the sensational features that have marked the developments of this trial. The courtroom was packed to the door and scores of eager men and women were bated because of the limited number of public seats.

DENOUNCES MOTHER

In the course of his plea when Mr. Delmas referred to the point where he argued as to the truthfulness of Evelyn Nesbit's statement he paid a glowing tribute to District Attorney Jerome calling him a honest man but added that he though galled beyond the average mind he could not trust the testimony of Evelyn Nesbit. He declared that the large sum paid by Stanford White to Mrs. Nesbit proved he had ruined the daughter.

JUROR WEEPS

He denounced Mrs. Nesbit as an unnatural mother who had given the District Attorney's statement to torture the wounded soul of her daughter. When Delmas touched it on Harry K. then's love for Evelyn one of the jurors was seen to wipe his eyes.

FAMILY PRESENT

Every member of the Thaw family and of the intent who have testified for or against the defendant were present, from the widow of the victim down to the wheel hatted pleader from the Pacific coast also were on hand and one of the three hundred spectators followed closely the words of the trial.

SHE WAS DRUGGED

Must I tell you how she was led or step by step how she was plied with wine and drugged and finally became the victim? This story you have heard from the child's tellerings of the man of genius possessed—into one of those dens fitted up with all the beauty and taste which this man of genius possessed—into one of those dens this child was lured and found herself alone with this man who was her protector. I have no doubt he persuaded the mother to absent herself from the city assuring her that the child would be safe in his hands and telling her how fortunate it was that there was such a protector to watch over her.

CHILD ALONE

The child was left alone. I wish I were in my power to pay over the scene which followed. I wish it did not occur to me to think my own means to you but my duty gives me no choice. In one of those dens fitted up with all the beauty and taste which this man of genius possessed—into one of those dens this child was lured and found herself alone with this man who was her protector.

SHOULD BE PUNISHED

He had committed the greatest crime that ever defiled the image of God. He had laid to destruction and had crushed the child who had trusted him. He had committed a crime against the law of the state a crime that the chief magistrate of this country in a message to Congress said should be punished by death.

TEMPLE TO ABRAHAM

Had this man forgotten that when you lay down a child among his arms he should be a father?

However, however such a little child in my name he shall dwell with me forever but who shall offend a little one such as this? It was better that a milestone were tied about his neck and he was drowned in the depths of the sea.

HE CLEARED

He Gentlemen who had erected a temple to Abraham had forgotten a temple to a girl who should to the children of Israel. They had reflected a fatherless child should still die.

On Stanford White who entrapped a child who had no father, who had been a child of millions and had not done a iota of harm, I told him that God would not hear that cry.

Had you forgotten that retribution would be at hand? Better had it been to let our son die before this day, for then you might have slept in the splendor of your name when your departure would have been deplored by your family when all would have at once known that your son was a fool. It was a word and before your genius had been an aggression of your crime.

Mr. Delmas next went into a long discussion of the written law in the statute of the State. I have written it in full it nevertheless protes to the court in the name of the law.

UNWRITTEN LAW

It is a well known fact that in this case we have unwritten the law in the name of the law. We have written the law thus. It will be my duty to tell you all the help in my power in deciding the question before you. Is it the performance of my task? It is not improper to say that I am bound to defend the cause of justice over against you. Your judgment I will not call in such a film as this as a written law. This defendant finds himself in the written law in the statute of the State I have written it in full it nevertheless protes to the court in the name of the law.

RLFERS TO THE DEAD

In the performance of my duty it will be necessary for me to refer to the dead. I will do so in all respect possible but there are cases where the memory of the dead must give way to the needs of the living. For those who are left behind for the widow who mourns for the son I have nothing but words of sympathy. Grief would I suspend it possible the law that the sins of the father must descend from mother and four generations.

The story is that of two young people whom fate by insatiable desire had determined to link together to be united and walk through life in the company of one another. The story covers only a few years. It is the saddest most mournful and most tragic which the tongue of man has ever uttered or the ear of man heard. Let me begin briefly with the one story—one filled with incidents which a volume might overflow or might be written by the vivid imagination.

HER BIRTH

She was born on March 18, 1884, in the city of Pittsburgh. The first years of her childhood saw the loss of her mother and protector and left her in charge of her mother who easily manifested the character of frivolity and extravagance.

JUDGE ROASTS ACH WHEN HE TALKS ABOUT EDITORS

WHICH THE PROSECUTION WAS IN IGNORANCE.

ACH REPLIED THAT IT WAS AN AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT OF AN APPLICATION, ABOUT TO BE MADE, FOR AN ORDER ADJUDGING CERTAIN PERSONS GUILTY OF CONTEMPT.

ALLEGED CONTEMPT.

"Give it to me," said Judge Dunne. "I will read it."

The affidavit charges that M. H. de Young, as proprietor, and John P. de Young as editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, committed contempt of court by publishing in that newspaper last Saturday an editorial of which the following is an excerpt:

"We trust that Judge Dunne will give no further warning to experienced attorneys, who, not in the heat of passion, but with cold-blooded, deliberate purpose, insult the people of California in the person of their chosen judicial officers.

KNOW THE LAW.

"These attorneys know the law, and are perfectly familiar with the line which divides decency from indecency. When they step over on the side of indecency they do it of deliberate purpose and the public, which is insulted, is looking to the Judges to punish the insulters. One attorney was weeks ago sentenced to jail for this offense."

THE PEOPLE.

"The people are astonished that he has not yet gone there. They are wondering if prominent attorneys have such 'pulls' with Appellate Courts as to be able to get them out of jail when they deserve to go there."

WHAT THE JUDGE SAID.

"Let me suggest," said Judge Dunne, "that these proceedings have now extended over a long period, and that during that time there have appeared in the different journals various articles respecting this trial. I really think they have made no difference in the conduct of it. I don't think this court ought to be swerved from its course by comment of newspapers or of individuals. I have felt that it was my duty to try the case before me, and to pay no attention to anything that might be said on the outside, whether adverse or commendatory. Furthermore, Mr. Ach, I will say to you that there may be some truth in the article complained of."

FERRY BOATS IN COLLISION

San Jose and Ramona Run Together in the Heavy Fog—No One Hurt.

In the fog that hung over the bay this morning the iron steamer San Jose of the San Francisco-Oakland and San Jose Railroad company collided with the steamer Ramona. No one was hurt and the vessels were slightly damaged. The San Jose was making its 7 o'clock trip and when off Goat Island ran into the Ramona. Both boats were proceeding slowly in the impact of the collision. No one was injured.

Passengers of the San Jose were in a panic for a short time but as soon as it was found that nothing serious had happened the excitement quieted down and the ferryboat resumed its trip.

Heavy Fog On the Bay

SAN FRANCISCO April 8—The heaviest fog of the season set in over the bay this morning and for several hours all steamship traffic was at standstill. While the ferries continued to run, their trips were very irregular sometimes taking over two hours to cross here from Oakland. The boats that ply regularly between Tiburon and other nearby points were also affected by the fog and many people were kept from reaching their places of business in the city.

PASTORS ASSAIL AWFUL CONDITIONS WHICH SURROUND WORKING GIRLS

WOMEN ASSUME MEN'S DUTIES

Clergymen Cite Revolting Instances and Make Appeal to Humanity.

Before a large congregation which assembled in the First Congregational church of Oakland last night the moral status of the working girls of the city of Oakland was expounded and awakened the hearts and minds of the members of the church to the realization of great trials regarding the manner in which working girls live.

Charles W. Petry, Reuben Wland and the Rev. Charles R. Brown addressed the congregation.

Rev. Charles R. Brown said in part:

NEFARIOUS WORK.

"I believe that a great deal of nefarious business is carried on in the restaurants of the city of Oakland. Certain waiters have come to me now regarding the indecency existing in the restaurants, and have asked me to look into the place where young girls have been exposed to indecency."

CONDITIONS REVOLTING.

"The girls will have some conscience about where they spend their money, conditions would not much change. No young woman should be exposed to indecency. The women are the greatest determining factor in the market, should be spent. Where methods are not pure and moral, and they are bad, the stores ought to be boycotted."

EVERY MAN'S POWER.

"It lies within the power of every man here to add in maintaining such atmosphere as is in the various saloons, restaurants, the hitting of steam and whistling of belting which supplies the power."

"Standing at one of these machines which has taken the place of a farthingale, as it were, we find the girl engaged in dexterously feeding tablecloths between large revolving rollers made of iron and covered with cloth; at the other side is another catching them as they pass through."

AWFUL SCENES.

"After fast and painful preparation stands on her brow. Without any warning a piercing and heart-screaming scream is heard—her hand has been caught between the cruel rollers—every face turns with horror and fear, the pulse of the thronging crowd beats faster, the voice of the songstress, leading woman, and English throat, sobbing, are well placed. Poor car service will retard business at this playhouse for some time, but Messrs. Bishop and Greenbaum see financial light ahead. Best seats are 50 cents."

UTTER DISREGARD.

"To show the utter disregard of the rights of a working girl has, no later than yesterday a human brute of the political world attempted an unspeakable act of a despicable girl, the wife of one of the members of Congress, during the absence of other members, and would probably have been successful were it not for the accidental appearance of strangers."

"These, my friends, are among the acts which caused the fall of an American workman's bid. The day is fast waning when we look for a definition of the holy word 'justice' among the musty statutes and a prejudiced judiciary."

TAKE MAN'S PLACE.

"Only recently an overseer is reported to have given expression to the following: 'I am a man's place, you must take my man's position.' I'll make slaves of you yet before I'm through with you. Should this have occurred during the day our gall-splitting martyr I am sure he would have traveled across the continent if necessary to meet out such punishment."

TAKE MAN'S PLACE.

"For a moment all are right with fate, to look on them recovering, many rush to her side, willing hands reverse the rollers and sit Galia Empid into their arms—marked for life if not killed by the shock."

AFFECTED BY HEAT.

"I am termed progress, the much-mooted labor-saving machinery. All the wealth of all the wealth of the earth, brought as an offering could not return to this poor creature that which God had given her at birth."

PHYSICAL CONDITIONS.

"Let us examine into the physical condition of these girls. Prevailed upon them to form a follow-up. Induced by long hours of standing, their feet become so flattened and deformed that those employed at this form of industry are commonly called flat-footers. Various veins often compel them to remain in the same position for hours. But perhaps the worst disease induced by this form of industrial torture is spinal curvature."

"Another phase of this subject, and the most heartbreaking to society generally, is the moral stain. I am fully aware that any statement made by me in regard to this grave question will not pass unchallenged and am fully prepared to verify what I say with affidavits from the girls themselves, as far as it may be, the world loves the truth. It is well to note

LAUDABLE WORK.

"Society is at present engaged in the noble work of providing a place for homeless girls, but I fear they are beginning at the wrong end. It would be far better to work in a direction to help them get an education, which would enable them to provide a home for themselves, for the working girl detests anything that might savor of her becoming an object of charity."

GOLDEN GATE AVENUE.

"This would obviate the necessity of continued beggary for funds."

SUNDAY DELIGHT.

"We are grateful to your spiritual leader for this opportunity and his efforts in drawing us the privilege of telling to the world at least one portion of this great question."

UNION MEN REVOLT.

"Let us now turn to society generally, and in full measure of what we have said thus far, the world loves the truth. It is well to note

WHAT SAVED HIM.

"Despite the offer of more wages from their employer, if they refrain from joining a union, the telephone operators will meet Thursday to decide if they shall strike. Before then they expect to get a charter from the American Federation of Labor."

TAYLOR BECAME DAFT.

"The attempt of Louis Borlejo, aged twenty-five, to suicide in a bathroom at 283 Eighth street was frustrated because, although he turned on the gas full head, he neglected to remove the plug from the tub and the overflow water went through to the floor below. The man was enamored of Miss Lottie Rothschild, of 1690 Ellis street."

AT COURTING PARK.

"Charles Taylor, a detective sergeant of this city, became deranged at Los Angeles while bringing back from Bisbee, Arizona, a fugitive, Alvin Slevenski, alleged defaulting treasurer of the Brewers' Union. Taylor's captive could have fled, because of the officer's Employe of Railroad Company Says He Has Been Hypnotized.

William A. Myrer, a stenographer in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, whose parents reside in Denver, was locked up last night at police headquarters charged with suspicion of insanity.

Myrer, a student at the state, and asked to be locked up because of a hypothesis that had been thrown over him by Dr. A. Lyons of Seventeenth street and San Pablo avenue. This is the second time that Myrer has asked the police to lock him up. He was examined in February, being sent to the state hospital at Stockton at that time.

Myrer is evidently suffering from a nervous disorder, which makes him a menace to the public. About 11 o'clock last night he went to the apartments of Dr. Lyons and inquired for him in so threatening a manner as to cause the doctor to request Myrer's detention until he could get a complaint of insanity and institute inquiry why the man was so soon discharged from the Stockton institution.

Myrer gives his age as twenty-two years. He is a physical and nervous weak. He weighs but ninety-six pounds, but his threat to get a revolver and shoot summarily with his imaginary persecutors makes him dangerous to be at large.

MELROSE SALOON MAN IS ASSAULTED

CUSTOMS ARE ON INCREASE

Extraordinary Amount of Imports Coming Into New York.

NEW YORK, April 8.—If the extraordinary increase in imports at the port of New York continues at the present rate, it is probable that Congress will be called upon to provide an additional building for the appraisers' warehouse collector. Statistics report the present value of imports daily averaging $10,000,000 in excess of those a year ago, foretelling the heaviest twelve months' business in the history of the port.

The daily receipts at the legal custom house for the first year Jan. 1 to March 31 averaged $678,563, while so far this year the average is $716,570.

IS HOLDING UP APPROPRIATION

Attorney General Questions Acts Regarding State Building.

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—At the extra session of the Legislature in 1906 $500,000 was appropriated for the purpose of erecting a State building in San Francisco. At the time there was not sufficient money in the general fund for the project, so an act transferring money from the school land fund to the general fund was passed. Then a bill appropriating the money from the general fund was made a law.

Now the question as to the constitutionality of the act has arisen and the Attorney General has instructed State Controller A. B. Nease to refuse to pay out any part of the appropriation until the matter has been settled in the courts. With the aid of the State Controller and the Merchants' Association of San Francisco the Attorney General is now endeavoring to find some way in which to start the bill. Meanwhile the erection of the State building will be delayed indefinitely.

WHERE did you get the lead you now have? You say you were locked up Saturday night, asked Jessie Daniels this morning when John Stewart recited his name through the bars, when his name was called. Stewart was thick-tongued, red-faced, had a headache, but he knew enough to reply:

ATTORNEY ACH TRIES TO DRAW OUT JUDGE DUNNE

Court Says He Will Not Cross the Bridge Until He Comes to It.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—In the Rue case today Attorney Ach made a strong plea to have editors M. H. De Young and John P. Young cited for contempt.

The affidavit was handed to Judge Dunne soon after he descended the bench this morning, and his honor spent fifteen minutes in reading it. He then turned to Mr. Ach and said:

"What do you wish me to do?" "I would like," was the reply of Ach, "that your honor would sign the accompanying order to have Mr. De Young and his editor to show cause why they should not be committed for contempt of court."

MANY ROASTS.

"Let me suggest," said Judge Dunne, "that since this trial has been in progress articles have been published in the papers covering a wide range of territory. The article in question does not differ in tone from many others which have already appeared. I desire to state, however, the articles I refer to have made no difference in my attitude to any parties to the suit. I do not think that criticism will sever me from doing my duty or that I shall be influenced by the comment of any paper on any individual case."

"There is an unwritten law that such comment is in contempt of court at such a time," said Ach. "We do not want to try our cases in the newspapers."

"The petition aims to try in this court," said Judge Dunne, "a side issue. It refers to something that has taken place outside of court, and I am not going to pay any attention to it at present."

JOHNSON'S REPLY.

Attorney Johnson, for the prosecution, said that he had not been shown the petition or consulted about it. He suggested that the court might take the matter under advisement until such a time as the prosecutor might be given opportunity to ascertain what was proposed by the measure of whom it concerned.

"I don't think it concerns anybody," said Judge Dunne. "Anyway this isn't the time nor the place to take it up."

"When would your honor prefer to take it up, then?" asked Ach.

Man Forfeits His Bail and Will be Arrested on Bench Warrant.

He was held over from Justice of the Peace Quin's court several weeks ago on the charge of grand larceny and admitted to $2000 bond. His trial in the Superior court was set for this morning and when he failed to appear, Judge McEvily ordered a bench warrant to be issued and declared the case closed.

The information filed against Baigalupi charges him with having converted to his own use a padding mare, belonging to Harry Barrone. Baigalupi was acting as Barrone's bailee, when, according to the complaint, he took the mare, a $300 animal, and appropriated it for his use without the permission of its owner.

BIG ROW IN THIS CHURCH

Is Put Up to Defeat the Pastor, Rev. E. E. Baker By Faction.

to be merely a struggle between two elements in the church to get control of the boards of elders and trustees, the pastor, Rev. E. E. Baker, is the real storm center. The membership of the church has been split into two factions ever since Rev. Mr. Baker succeeded Dr. Coyle in the pastorate. Coyle had particularly endeared himself to the younger members, but his methods of dealing with church affairs and insistence of forcing the execution of his personal views produced an estrangement between him and the older element in the church government which resulted finally in a separation.

CHANGE OF PASTORS

The change in pastors was followed by a falling off in the membership. But the anti-Coyle element held the reins of government in the board of trustees, and the anti-Bakerites have never ceased in their efforts to get the control of church affairs in their own hands.

STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY

An underground struggle for supremacy has been continuously kept up between these factions.

RENEWAL OF THE FIGHT

Last year an effort was made by the younger blood in the church to get control of the boards of elders and trustees, but without success. This year the fight for control has been renewed with increased vigor. It seems to be one in which no quarter is to be given.

THROWS DOWN THE GLOVE

W. N. Jenkins, a member of the board of trustees and an anti-Bakerite and leader of that faction, started the ball moving by charging Dr. G. Erwin Brinckerhoff, a fellow member of the board, with the ownership of property in the Chinese quarters which is being used by his tenants for gambling purposes. It was the anti-Bakerite's way of throwing down the gage of battle. The old members in the board of elders at once picked up the glove and at a specially called meeting held last Friday night unanimously suspended Jenkins pending an investigation of his charges against Brinckerhoff, whose status in the church was not, however, disturbed.

The preliminary skirmish in the campaign of First Presbyterian Church politics appears, therefore, to have favored the Bakerites.

ONLY THE BEGINNING.

But this is only the beginning of the big battle which is now fairly on. There promises to be a hot time between now and the close of the annual election, if the result then obtained really settles the cause of strife. There is no more fighting to be carried on by either side under cover. The young members are out in the open and they are calling for blood. Jenkins' suspension has raised a tremendous storm of dissatisfaction in the church membership and among the congregation, because the hearing at which it was done was strictly secret. No concealment is made now by the Jenkins following that the boards of elders and trustees must be reorganized and that Rev. Mr. Baker must go.

BRINCKERHOFF'S PROPERTY.

Dr. Brinckerhoff admits that he owns property located at 270 Fourth street, which is rented to Chinese, but he denies that it is being used for gambling purposes and asserts that he can prove what he says is true.

JENKINS SILENT.

Jenkins, the suspended elder, will not discuss the matter, but neither he nor his followers are idle, losing not a minute's time for the line-up in the final battle to be fought with ballots on Wednesday night.

PRETTY GIRL IS CRIPPLED

Train Crushes Her Legs and They Are Amputated by Surgeon.

ond train, but could not get out of the way. Mr. Lang was near her. We ran out of the way when both trains went flying by, and I just turned around in time to see my sister get thrown down by one of the engines. I thought she was just out, but she moaned and said, "I am all mangled to pieces." I was horrified when I saw that her legs were cut off.

"No, it was impossible for her to get on one side, or the other when the train came along. One was coming from each direction. She could not have jumped over the culvert without being killed by falling to the key route tracks, and about the only thing she could do was to stay there and get run down."

MAN FAINTS.

"Mr. Lang started out for the doctor or ambulance, but from the injuries he sustained he fainted before he could get to the telephone.

"We had been to the picnic at Shell Mound and then went over to the racetrack in the afternoon, where Mr. Lang had some friends. It was quite late when we started to walk to the Sixteenth-street station. There was a little station there, but we thought we had plenty of time to walk to the depot."

The operation on Miss Bergner was one of the quickest amputations on record in any hospital. It was just 1:40 a. m. when she was placed on the operating table of the Receiving Hospital and in ten minutes the operation was performed. Five doctors were on hand when Miss Bergner was brought to the hospital.

PERFORM OPERATION.

During the operation the girl was under the influence of chloroform for no longer than three minutes, for the shock she sustained prevented the doctors from putting her entirely to sleep.

After the amputation Miss Bergner was placed on a cot in the hospital and this morning she was resting quite easily. Her aged mother, Mrs. Mary L. Bergner, and her sister, Miss Ella, visited her during the day. The mother was nearly prostrate over the sad news, but was able to give comfort to her unfortunate daughter as she lies in a critical condition in the hospital. The physicians in charge hold out some hope of recovery and it might be that she will survive the terrible shock.

Her father, Herman Bergner, is employed as a ranch hand near Petaluma.

David Lang, the young man who was with the party, is 21 years old and is employed as a teamster in San Francisco, where he resides at 1991 Howard street. Lang was badly bruised about the left side and for the present he will remain at the Receiving Hospital.

ASSAULT IS MADE UPON HOUSE OWNER

Albert Richmond, a well-known horse owner of this city today swore out a warrant for the arrest of M. Buckley, on a charge of battery. Richmond filed the complaint in the Justice court this morning, stating that Buckley had maliciously given him a black eye because he would not pay him a small debt which had been incurred at intervals for incidentals.

BURNING CHIMNEY CALLS OUT DEPARTMENT

Answering an alarm of fire this morning turned in from box 68, the fire department found a house afire, which caused almost a panic in the family of H. Clay, living at 1004 Tenth street. There was little or no damage done and the department had its run for nothing.

Jenkins, the suspended elder, will not discuss the matter, but neither he nor his followers are idle, losing not a minute's time for the line-up in the final battle to be fought with ballots on Wednesday night.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS TAKES UP MANY MATTERS

Assumption That Body Would Act on Proposed Bids for Supplying Automobile Proves Erroneous.

The assumption that the Board of Supervisors would take action on the bids opened at the last meeting for supplying an automobile proved erroneous, as President Mitchell announced immediately after calling the meeting to order, that consideration of the bids would go over one week. Roll call showed that all the members were present.

APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSES.

Applications for liquor licenses were submitted from Joseph O. Souter and Louis Faurot, Ashland, Hayward's road; Christ Warren, Ocean View; E. W. Hullford, San Leandro and Roberts Landing Roads landing, San Lorenzo; R. P. Sonoren, Redwood Canyon; J. W. Hafner, Park hotel, Newark and Henry Martens, Willow hotel, San Lorenzo. The applications took the usual course.

MACMULLAN CLAIM.

A resolution was adopted by a vote of 3 to 1, Rowe voting no, and Bridge being excused on the ground that he was not a member of the board when the settlement was made on C. S. MacMullan's claim against the County, allowing MacMullan the sum of $2,957.75 as the unpaid balance of the original sum of $14,587.57 which was agreed between him and the board.

STEWARD BORCHERT.

Steward Borchert reported 208 patients admitted to the Receiving Hospital, three deaths, and five patients sent to the county infirmary.

DENIED LICENSE.

Otto Schwartz's application for a license to sell liquor in Upper Fruitvale, at Dimond, was denied, on motion of Supervisor Bridge, who represented that there were a sufficient number of saloons in that locality already and the people living there had no desire to have any more. The application was turned down by a full vote.

NILES STORM SEWER.

The question of building a sewer at Niles to carry off storm water was the subject of some discussion, growing out of the protest filed by W. H. Ford, J. C. Shinn and others based on the ground that it was the intention of the proprietors of the industries who had voluntarily consented to pay two-thirds of the expense to use the sewer as a drain to their respective premises and the sewers thus discharged into the sewer would empty into the creek or into a cesspool on the side of the creek which would defile the waters thereof and create an intolerable nuisance.

Shinn objected also on the ground that the deposit of sewage in a cesspool at the point where it was intended to locate the outlet of the storm sewer would affect his gravel bed and impair its commercial value by forcing him to maintain a washing plant.

An objection was raised by the proprietors also against joining the county interests in the storm sewer with any private or corporate interest, on the ground that any violation of the sanitary laws of the state through the discharge of sewerage into a storm sewer would involve the county in litigation.

It was finally decided to disjoin these interests. Mr. Elsworth, on behalf of the industries, declaring that they would proceed independently to construct a small sewer and dispose of the storm water, sewer would be constructed as a work of necessity at the county's sole expense—to be used for carrying storm water only. Objection to this course was withdrawn and the application for the sewer was dismissed and the bids submitted by contractors for the

The President and the Interests.

The railroad millionaires who are charging the President with bad faith might as well save their breath. It is a waste of time for them to complain that Roosevelt has not played fair with them and the interests they represent; that he has induced them to contribute money to his campaign fund and to lend their assistance to his political aspirations without living up to his implied obligations; and that he has deceived them by making them believe he was only playing to the gallery in demanding strict government regulation and control of railroads and trusts.

Until they can show that the President has betrayed the people they cannot undermine his popularity. Their complaints of being betrayed only provoke the derision of the masses, who are inclined to rejoice at the idea of the President beating them at their own game, putting the devil to rout with his own fire. As long as Teddy's art is true to Poll they do not mind what he did to the multi-millionaires.

The gist of Mr. Harriman's complaint is that the President called him to the White House and induced him to raise $200,000, of which he personally contributed $50,000, among the community of interests for use in the New York campaign, and then violated the implied understanding underlying all transactions of this character.

Taking Mr. Harriman's view, the President had before him the alternative of being false to the people or false to the men who contributed to his campaign fund under the sweet delusion conveyed by his excellency's friendly manner and delicate request. But what if he did spoil the Egyptian by guile? He has not proved false to Israel. Despite the liberal contributions of Mr. Harriman and his associates he has laid the big stick on their backs harder than ever. He has not only remained true to the pledges he publicly gave the people, but he has been harder on Harriman and the community of interests than ever.

Mr. Harriman may prove beyond peradventure that the President played the part of Ah Sin, child-like and bland, to "the interests," but he will not shake the implicit confidence the people repose in Theodore Roosevelt. He has not been treacherous to them. He has not deceived his countrymen at large whatever he has done to the multi-millionaires. The worse he treats the latter the better it suits the former.

That is why the great railroad operators have nothing to gain by complaining that the President has used them and then betrayed them. If he has lulled them into fancied security, silenced their opposition and made them his allies, and then remained true to his pledges he will be popularly regarded as having passed through fire unscathed, as having stolen the hearts of the enemies of the people, as did Deborah, to work their destruction. It is futile for them to assert that the President has lied to them. He has not lied to the people. The claim that he has deceived and betrayed "the interests" excites neither sorrow nor sympathy. The people are glad of it. If any person disbelieves let him quietly sound public opinion. He will find that the public conscience is not touched at all by the representation that the President played a shrewd trick on Harriman and his associates. What if he did traffic with Mephistopheles in secret, provided he euerched that sulphurous party in the end? The stronger Harriman makes his case the stronger he entrenches the President in the minds of the masses. And that is the plain truth of the matter.

Roosevelt's friends and enemies appear to be in collusion to force a third term on him.

John F. Stevens, the retiring chief engineer, says the Panama canal will be open for traffic by January 1, 1915. This will be welcome news to the American public. The date Mr. Stevens fixes for the completion of the canal is as early as could reasonably be expected, and much earlier than some grouchy correspondents and politicians have predicted. Senator Morgan said recently that it would take twenty-five years to finish the canal at the present rate of progress, but he has been in a pessimistic frame of mind ever since the Nicaragua route was abandoned.

Notwithstanding the ameliorated condition of Ireland, due to the Land Purchase Act, and the enlargement of local self-government, the population continues to decrease. Since the census was taken five years ago there has been a net decrease of 36,000 in the population, and the tide of emigration continues in spite of strenuous efforts to stop it. Peasant proprietorship and the revival of Irish industries have not sufficed to keep the Irish in the land of their birth, for the reason that they can do much better in America, Canada and Australia. Sentiment fails to hold them to the Green Isle when the finger of opportunity beckons them to other lands, where their kindred have flourished and become prosperous.

Oakland was omitted from the list of cities specified in the bank clearings report issued by Bradstreet last Saturday. What subtle underhanded influence is at work here? Such places as Fargo, Sioux Falls, Kalamazoo, Fremont and Decatur were mentioned, but the bank clearings of Oakland were not given, being lumped in with those of a lot of Jim Crow towns under the head of "miscellaneous." Yet the clearings in this city last week amounted to as much as the aggregate of a dozen of the smaller cities mentioned in Bradstreet's list. Again, we ask, why was Oakland omitted from the list? Is this another trick to foster the fiction that this city is merely a suburb of San Francisco? The Chamber of Commerce should take the matter up and ascertain why Oakland has been dropped from Bradstreet's bank clearings report.

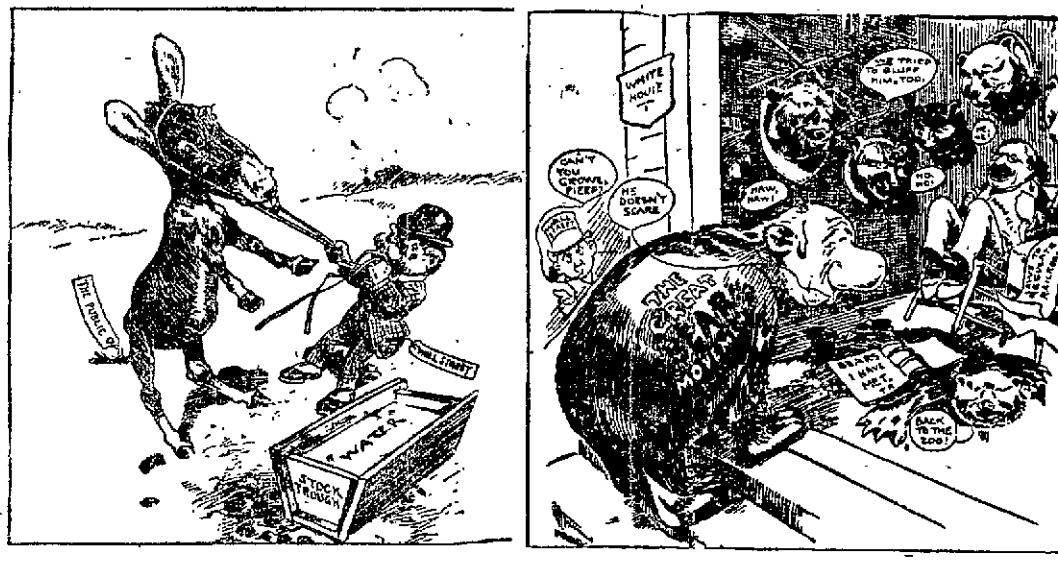

Langdon and Heneey are quite right in refusing to permit the anti-graft crusade to be used as an instrument of private griefs and political resentments. If they should turn aside at this juncture to take up factional political quarrels and side issues growing out of personal contention they would break the moral force of the movement to break up the reign of graft and corruption in the municipal government. All other matters should be subordinated to the one great object of purifying a body politic and restoring clean government in San Francisco. Nothing is to be gained by gratifying the personal grudges of grafters turned informer and corrupt politicians turned reformer. The prosecuting officers are wise in their decision to stick to the business in hand, which is the elimination of graft in official life and putting an end to the system of bribery which has disgraced the city.

If people have facts to present they may do so over their own names, but they cannot shoot from ambush through the columns of THE TRIBUNE. how just the grievances of the workers may be, there is no justification for violence and disorder. When an appeal is made to public sentiment it should be presented in a manner calculated to inspire respect. Kicking up a row in front of the premises of employers is hardly calculated to induce a respectful or sympathetic hearing.

Nevada's Annexation Scheme.

The people of Nevada are agitating the annexation of the strip of California east of the Sierra Nevada mountains. This strip comprises the counties of Modoc, Lassen, Inyo and Mono, and parts of Sierra, Plumas and Nevada. The scheme is an old one, and appears to have been revived for no particular reason. It is stated by the Nevada papers that a majority of the inhabitants of the trans-mountain strip are in favor of being annexed to Nevada. The wish is probably father to the thought. No authoritative test has been made of their sentiments in the matter. However, a desire on the part of a majority of those living in the region will not justify the proposed segregation and annexation. Probably four-fifths of the inhabitants of the counties south of Tehachapi are in favor of seceding from California and setting up a new State, but they will not be permitted to have their way. The doctrine of the consent of the governed has its limitations. The whole number must be considered. If each fraction of a commonwealth were permitted to have its way political divisions would be constantly changing and undergoing dissection. State boundaries cannot be altered every time a disgruntled section desires to change its political affiliation or set up as an independent sovereignty. When Nevada appeared to be dying of inanition the inhabitants of the strip of California east of the mountains had not the faintest desire to be annexed to the Sagebrush State; only since the mining revival has brought renewed prosperity to Nevada has there been a recrudescence of annexation sentiment. But it appears to prevail almost exclusively in Nevada. There is hardly any annexation talk in the counties Nevada proposes to appropriate, and we believe a canvass after a full discussion would show that only a small proportion of the inhabitants of those counties are in favor of quitting the jurisdiction of California for that of Nevada.

POLITENESS UNKNOWN.

A few evenings ago a train made up of two ordinary passenger coaches and a baggage car pulled into the Union station from the yard, prepared to go out over one of the branch roads. The hands of the station clock pointed to within a few minutes of the scheduled time of departure, and the shivering passengers who had been standing on the station platform laden with bundles quickly filled the coaches. Men and women alike sought seats in both of the coaches, when a brakeman entered the car, and, after answering a score of questions in the affirmative, that the head coach was a smoking car, a fat woman loaded down with bundles approached him and asked:

"Say, mister, is this the smoking car?"

"Of course, it is the smoking car," said the brakeman. "Does it look like a parlor car?"

The fat woman pulled her cloak closer around her shoulders before she replied: "It looks like a cattle car and it feels like an ice box," she said. "Evidently you folks think the people who ride on the line are paying for cold storage and impudence."

THE INNOCENT JOYS OF YOUTH.

"Gracious, Fanny!" exclaimed a mother to her little daughter, "why are you shouting like that? Why can't you be quiet like your brother?"

"He's got to be quiet," replied Fanny. "He's playing papa coming home late."

"And who are you playing?"
"Oh, I'm playing you."—Harper's Weekly.

Senator Tillman was attacking an offender who pleaded a hypocritical and false excuse.

"Why," he cried, "the man is worse than that rich coal-dealer who said to his weight-clerk during a blizzard:

In a newly published biography it is related that Talleyrand sent across the channel on the matter of a diplomatic question between England and France, learned there that the French king had been deposed and that his mission was premature at an end. He had not been very favorably received. The queen had turned her back on him when presented at St. James. "She was quite right," said Talleyrand, afterward. "Her Majesty is very ugly."

When Richard Mansfield was going to the theater in New York the other night a small bull terrier ran in front of his automobile, and was thrown to one side of the street. The chauffeur stopped instantly and an irate old gentleman appeared, to whom Mr. Mansfield made his apologies. "Your dog ran in front of the car so suddenly that it was impossible to avoid the accident," he said. "That dog," said the old gentleman, "was worth $500." "Well," replied the actor, "the dog evidently didn't know it."

A story is told of a New York conductor who had once been in the ministry and who retained some of his former ways of speech in his new calling. He had been at the front of the car-collecting fares and when he returned to his platform a well-dressed person told him that a man had boarded the car at Houston street and had found a place inside. The conductor stepped inside the doorway and ran his mild gaze up and down the car, but could not be sure which of the passengers was the late arrival. "Will the gentleman, who got on at Houston street please rise?" he asked calmly. The man arose involuntarily, and with a bow and a "Thank you!" the conductor collected his fare.

A RELIABLE STRENGTH CREATOR

Vinol is the latest scientific production of the greatest tonic rebuild the world has ever known, namely, cod liver oil.

In Vinol the useless, system-clogging, nauseating oil is eliminated, and the medicinal curative elements known to exist in the cod's liver are administered in a highly concentrated form, with tonic iron added.

This is why Vinol is so strongly recommended by physicians and guaranteed by over five thousand of the leading druggists of the United States as a body-builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, puny children, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. The doctor knows what he is giving, and the patient knows what he is taking.

A. B. Specht, of the Owl Drug Co., says: "We sell Vinol on a guarantee that it can will do all we claim for it, or return money without question." The Owl Drug Co., Thirteenth and Broadway, Tenth and Washington.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Oakland, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

An Actress On Arms

A DAILY PAPER IS LIKENED TO A THEATER

An actress who is playing at a local theater writes: "I have decided to pose specially for your best-arm contest. I have in mind that the competition is limited to residents of Alameda county, but I consider myself entitled to be a volunteer. You don't say how long one shall have been here. Anyway, I am eligible. It would delight me if I could capture first prize, but I am not vain enough to suppose that I am the only woman in this county to have a remarkably shapely arm. It may be, though, that I will be able to outpose any rival."

"Do you know, I think a daily newspaper is considerably like a theater. You have a tremendous audience, and your columns team with tragedy, comedy and melodrama. Indeed, your program of the performance has a host of romantic, pathetic and burlesque offerings. The more I think of the mass of matter THE TRIBUNE spreads before its readers every issue, the deeper I am convinced that you give a great entertainment for five cents. Regarding your tourney to establish who has the most luscious arm (I am thinking of grapes, now), I will tell you that it is all right."

"We are all members of one family of human beings, and some mortals of each era have personal charms of physique that should be depicted by sculptor, painter or photographer for the delectation of those living, and for the pleasure of those who are to come after. Just think of the majesty there is in a picture of George Washington, or the beauty that a miniature of Meine Recomier discloses. Yes, your arm-exposition is a grand idea, and it should educe new subjects for the world to admire. Them's my sentiments!"

"I am a member of the First Congregational Church congregation," another lady remarks, "and am pretty well imbued with Scriptural knowledge. We take THE TRIBUNE and I must say I have got deeply interested in your proposition to learn identity of the very prettiest formed arm. Your undertaking reminds me of the many beautiful types of character and of personality found in the Old Testament. FRANKLIN, Pa., April 8.—A remarkable reunion of sisters has taken place at Petroleum Centre, Venango county. Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, of Pleasantville, and Mrs. Lucy Brown, of Sugar Creek township, met for the first time in forty years, notwithstanding that for twenty-five years they had lived within twenty-five miles of each other.

Troy. After living a while in Philadelphia the wife returned to her family in Williamsport, Mass., and there sued for and obtained a divorce. Skellie alleges that since he was not a resident of that State and was never served with papers in the case, this divorce was invalid under the Supreme court ruling. He asks that his second marriage to Miss Bessie Lehr, now living at 1304 Hunting Park avenue, be annulled.

Skellie says when he learned of his first wife's divorce he thought it was valid, and he married Miss Lehr under that impression. Now he wishes to be separated from her. His wife will fight the suit. She declares the cases are not parallel and that Skellie did not tell her until long after their marriage that he had been married and divorced.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—The famous Dakota divorce decision of the United States Supreme Court to the effect that divorces granted in foreign States in which one of the parties is a non-resident are invalid is basis of the suit of Benjamin Skellie, teacher in the Blight School at Twenty-second and Spruce streets, for annulment of his second marriage.

This is said to be the first case in Pennsylvania due to the sweeping decision of the highest tribunal in the land—a decision which spread consternation all over the United States and put a question upon the legitimacy of hundreds of children of prominent families.

CAN CURE WAYWARD GIRLS BY HYPNOTIC SUGGESTION Experimental Work Has Been Success

NEW YORK, April 8.—Dr. John D. Quackenbos, specialist in nervous and mental diseases, hypnotist and student of psychic phenomena, has told the details of a series of interesting experiments he has been making recently to cure youthful inmates of the New Jersey Home for Girls, of waywardness, by hypnotic suggestion.

Dr. Quackenbos said he did not know how the first two girls from the Trenton home happened into his hands further than that one day he received a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth V. H. Mansell, the superintendent, saying that she would like to see if hypnotic suggestion would have any effect upon the ungovernable tempers of some of the young girls in the home. Upon the doctor's replying that he should like to make the experiments, Mrs. Mansell brought the two girls to his office during the early part of the summer.

SISTERS PARTED 40 YEARS ARE REUNITED AT FUNERAL Separated When Both Were Children

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 8.—A remarkable reunion of sisters has taken place at Petroleum Centre, Venango county. Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, of Pleasantville, and Mrs. Lucy Brown, of Sugar Creek township, met for the first time in forty years, notwithstanding that for twenty-five years they had lived within twenty-five miles of each other.

A few days ago a relative at Petroleum Centre died, and both women attended the funeral. Mrs. Watson was apprised of the fact that her sister was there, and had a friend point her out. Neither knew the other.

Troy. After living a while in Philadelphia the wife returned to her family in Williamsport, Mass., and there sued for and obtained a divorce. Skellie alleges that since he was not a resident of that State and was never served with papers in the case, this divorce was invalid under the Supreme court ruling. He asks that his second marriage to Miss Bessie Lehr, now living at 1304 Hunting Park avenue, be annulled.

Skellie says when he learned of his first wife's divorce he thought it was valid, and he married Miss Lehr under that impression. Now he wishes to be separated from her. His wife will fight the suit. She declares the cases are not parallel and that Skellie did not tell her until long after their marriage that he had been married and divorced.

WOMAN IS ANGRY BECAUSE SHE DID NOT MEET KING Complains to Government About Minister

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Letters representing the Government in an official capacity. The letters have been received at the State Department from Mrs. Van Clusen, making charges against W. W. Thomas, former minister to Sweden. None of the officials of the State Department will discuss the matter. The question of presenting foreigners at the court of Sweden has caused difficulties in the past because of the rule that only persons of noble rank shall be received by the King.

The bride told her parents of the marriage and was forgiven. The bridegroom broke the news to Mrs. Dyke yesterday. "I'm used to such things now," she said.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—A woman repented and sent Miss Redding to the door to meet him. ALMOST READY FOR A FLIGHT

C. H. Toliver's Airship Has Been Taken From Construction Cradle.

Removed for the first time from the cradle in which it was constructed, the big dirigible airship Toliver was successfully "launched" yesterday at Verona near Pleasanton.

Considerable work still remains to be done on the airship however, and the demonstration of its success or failure will not be attempted for several days.

C. H. Toliver, the inventor of the ship, who has passed nearly five years in its construction, yesterday expressed confidence that it would prove a complete success. The inventor was aided in the work of removing the ship from its cradle yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Kate Toliver, who has done much to aid in the building of the ship, having served as the suds while the big bag is turned.

SIZE OF AIRSHIP.

Toliver's airship is the largest ever constructed in this country, being 227 feet long and forty feet in diameter. In the construction it differs radically from other inventions of the kind, having no motor or basket under the cabin. The cabin, engine room and pilot house are all contained inside the bag itself. The ship is without rudders, being fitted with a propeller at each end, while two smaller propellers

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicine. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Mrs. C. E. Fink

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others.

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

TWO STRONG CONTESTS ON

Football Player is Strong Candidate for the Presidency.

BERKELEY, April 8.—Decision will be rendered in two lively student political fights next Wednesday, when the college will go to president and secretary of the Associated Student Body. These are the only two contests. E. W. Stow is running against J. M. Burke for president, and the secretaryship lies between J. W. McKibben and H. D. Hoover. F. M. Tracy will be chosen as vice-president, without opposition, and S. J. Hume is the only candidate for yell leader.

SECCULAR FIGHT.

J. W. McKibben, who is in the race for the secretaryship, feels confident that next semester will find him keeping the records of the associated students. He has a record as a hard worker at college who is taking a law course, is prominent in the glee club, and is a member of the Theta Chi Pi fraternity. H. D. Hoover, who is also desirous of keeping the minutes of the student body, is a good fighter and will keep in the running.

COMMITTEES.

The committee for the men consists of Stanley Walton (chairman), Arthur Halloran and Max Thelen; that for the women of Virginia Whitehead (chairman), Portia Askerman and Ava Earle.

On Wednesday evening the men and women of the class will meet in Berkeley or Oakland for an informal progressive supper, with a short business meeting and later a dance. On Thursday evening the men of the class will have a separate reunion. Shortly after the reunion a class record will be published, containing a full account of the reunion events and a statement of what every member of the class has been doing since graduation.

Though Monday has been selected as Alumni Day this year, assurances have been received that in succeeding years Tuesday of commencement week will be set aside for the purpose.

BLOOD POISON CURE YOURSELF AT HOME

Most persons who are afflicted with Contagious Blood Poison hesitate to go to a physician for several reasons.

In the first place the expense is heavy, and they know that the inevitable treatment will be mercury and potash, strong minerals that act with disastrous effects on the delicate parts of the system, and which do not, after all, really cure the disease.

What they want is a safe, reliable treatment that can be taken at home and a perfect cure made of this loathsome disorder or expense.

Such a remedy is S. S. S.—it is the only medicine that goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and drives out the last trace of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return.

It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, and after removing the disease from the circulation builds up every part of the system by its fine vegetable tonic properties.

S. S. S. attacks the trouble at its head and not only permanently cures the disease of the one afflicted, but so purifies the blood that the future offspring is insured against infection.

S. S. S. may be taken in the privacy of your home and a perfect cure made of this hateful and loathsome trouble.

For the assistance of those who are curing themselves with S. S. S.

We have prepared a special book on Contagious Blood Poison which contains instructions of great value to all blood poison sufferers.

We will be glad to send a copy of this book free, and if additional instructions or advice is wanted, our physicians will furnish it without charge.

AWNINGS DISFIGURE ALAMEDA BUILDINGS

ALAMEDA, April 8.—In keeping with the progress of the time the owners of the Park Hotel have torn down the heavy wooden awning that surrounded the building and also served as a porch. The Park Hotel is one of the oldest buildings in the city and was built by the Fair estate over twenty years ago. The structure is of brick with an outside coat of cement. The building stood the earthquake admirably. The removing of the large porch greatly improves the appearance of the hotel, which is now under the management of E. Dean. The wooden awning in front of the People's Water Works building has also been removed. It has been found that the removal of the awning makes the building appear neater.

SECOND TEAM WINS GAME EASILY

The Collegians, the fast second team of St. Mary's, last Saturday journeyed to Mare Island and defeated Uncle Sam's Marines to the tune of 5 to 1. Hart, for the college team, pitched a remarkable game, striking out twelve of the hard-hitting sailors and allowing only four scattering hits. Considering the size of "Lefty" alongside of his opponents he deserves all the credit in the world. The prospects looked good for St. Mary's when Donegan, the first man up, got all the way around to third without a hit. First fielding, however, prevented a score. In the Islander's half the first two men up were walked, but Hart settled down and succeeded in striking out the next two men and the inning ended, when Minick was caught at third. Neither side could get a man across the plate until the fifth inning, when the Oaklanders succeeded in getting Mickie Hughes across on a single, an out, and a double by Fields. The Marines in their half evened up the score on Donegan's error, and Lederman's drive to center for two bases. The seventh St. Mary's lucky inning again saw the collegians in the lead. Hughes, the first man up, singled to left, stole second and scored on Fields' hit. The Islanders coaded on by the shouts and jeers of three hundred sailors, were doing their best to solve Hart's delivery, but "Lefty" proved too much for them and in the seventh, eighth and ninth saw them going out in one, two, three order. Donegan clinched the game for his team in the last inning on his drive over short, scoring two runs. The game was witnessed by nearly a thousand excited marines and sailors. The features of it were Burns' hit drive, the pitching of Hart and the fast fielding of the entire field of the home team. Next Sunday at 2:30 these two teams meet on the St. Mary's campus.

HAL CHASE TO GO EAST SOON

Hal Chase, king of first basemen, was given a banquet in this city Saturday night by the members of the Phoenix Baseball Club of St. Mary's College.

Chase will leave for New York to-night. He came to terms with the New York Americans recently and is to receive $5000 for his services the coming season.

Guess Oakland can't turn out a pretty fair crowd to a ball game, eh?

Looks as though Van Haltren has gotten together a pretty useful sort of team. Guess those two victories over Los Angeles look bad, and that Oakland's name at the top of the heap don't fit, yes-no? *

Randolph and Wright are the winning slabmen of the Oakland team. It's up to the other boxmen to keep it up.

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Through the entirely superior work of the Oakland Coast League Baseball Club the Commuters cleaned up the Los Angeles team here today. Score 3 to 1.

Freckles Randolph, the giant Alabamian was on the slab for the Commuters and he made the Angels look like a camembert in the pinches.

The Oakland players showed ginger throughout the game and their hitters slapped the horseshoe at the opportune times.

Three double plays of which Oakland was responsible for two were among the features of the game.

If Oakland continues to play the game all season as it did here today the team that beats them will be entitled to the pennant.

Mother and Son

An English Love Story

Complete : Strong : Dramatic

He handed her the riding whip which she had dropped. "Thank you," she observed, eyeing him closely, then turning her steed, she tightened the reins and went galloping away.

Denis Carr stood watching her until a bend in the road hid her from sight. "To think," he remarked to himself; "that Rose Dunstan and I should meet at last."

Carr was a young author, down from London, loitering at a cottage near by. He had noted Rose Dunstan for the first time some days before. She dwelt with her widowed father, whose only child she was, at their grand manor house four miles from Carr's present home. With him it was a case of love at first sight.

The next day a lady and her son stopped at the cottage. They were members of a house party at Riverstone Lea, and had sauntered along the country road until she became spent from fatigue. Her son asked if she rest there until he returned in a carriage.

As she sat on the porch Denis Carr approached. Something in his looks made her accost him as he doffed his hat and was about entering the house.

"Who are you?"

It sounded a strange, abrupt question to ask; but he replied at once without hesitation.

"My name is Denis Carr; I am a writer of books, but the world doesn't know much of me." He rather sadly smiled, and started to pass by her.

"Please do not go," she said.

"I wish you would stay—and talk to me a few minutes. I am interested in writers; and I think I must have read a book of yours—'Magdalen's Mother'."

SPEAKS OF HIMSELF.

It was not a difficult task to induce him to talk. He had a frank, engaging interest in himself and in his work that was entirely devoid of conceit, and there was evidently nothing in his life that he wished to conceal. That must have been the reason he had so freely admitted that he had no relatives in all the world, nor had he ever known any.

"My home—if one who dwells alone can be said to have a home—is in London," he said, in answer to a question Lady Winifred asked. "I came down here for the summer, and I find it difficult to tear myself away. The country has its charms as well as the city"—there was a curious deepening of his voice as he uttered the last words, and the listener wondered whether he had found some human interest in this quiet rural girl, perhaps whom he had met.

"My parents both died when I was young," he went on, presently, in reply to other questions, avulently put; "indeed, long before I was old enough to remember anything about either of them. And I was brought up at a farm until I was old enough to be sent to a boarding school, where all my holidays were spent as well as the terms."

He spoke as though it were the most natural thing in the world for him to be giving Lady Winifred these details of his life. Some London lawyers and trustees to his father, denoted by his initials, had given him a sharp pain, an unaccountable sense of loss. "There are papers here, Mr. Carr," the girl went on, "for you to read. But I know what is in them, for before she died—perhaps feeling that the end was near, though she seemed in her usual health—Lady Winifred confided wonderful news to me—I told me the secret of her life. It will amaze you more even than myself, for it concerns you closely. Her secret was this: Mrs. Carr was Lady Winifred's son, or an earlier marriage."

He stared at her in incredulous surprise.

"Lady Winifred's son?" he murmured. "How can that be? For, were this true, was it right for me to be disowned, to be denied a mother's love, to be left in loneliness?"

"Yet it is true," said the girl, in low tones of sympathy. "It is the story of a great deception, but is told in few words. Your mother made a secret marriage when she was quite a girl, wedded a man socially her inferior, both of them little more than children at the time. A month after her marriage her boy-husband was accidentally killed, shot through the heart in a tragic conclusion to a day's sport."

THE MARRIAGE DISCLOSED

"It was then that Lady Winifred's mother, Mrs. Carr, left her marriage. But she kept it a secret from everyone, took her child away, and when you were born led your mother to believe that you had died at birth."

"Lady Winifred's son?" he murmured. "How can that be? For, were this true, was it right for me to be disowned, to be denied a mother's love, to be left in loneliness?"

"It is the story of a great deception, but is told in few words. Your mother made a secret marriage when she was quite a girl, wedded a man socially her inferior, both of them little more than children at the time. A month after her marriage her boy-husband was accidentally killed, shot through the heart in a tragic conclusion to a day's sport."

LIPS RESTING ON HER'S.

"But you don't care for him, Denis," she whispered. "And he knows that now."

He looked into her face with lightning eyes, and then let her in his arms, his gaze on hers, heart beating against her.

"What have I to offer you?" he said, hotly. "Neither wealth nor name—nor, for the sake of the dead, to keep her memory clear and without reproach—nor—nothing! What have I to offer you, Rose?"

She looked at him, and her voice rang through the room in tones of triumph. "You have your pen, Denis," she said. "It is a small weapon; but, dear, what power there is in it—what mighty power!"

"Put your father! He will never give his consent!"

"Mr. Carr is not the only person around him," she said. "And there is one person who rules him, and that is myself. No, he will raise no serious objection; he will just kiss her again with passion and tenderness."

"We must sorrow for the dead," he said softly. "For the dead who sleep in silence and in peace. But afterwards—ah, Rose, what joy for us—what joy!"

LATER GROWTH OF LAKE CITY

Federal Computation of Chicago's Population Is Subject of Dispute.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Even the official recognition by the federal census authorities that Chicago has passed the 2,000,000 mark in population did not cause unmitigated happiness yesterday among local experts, who are conversant with the huge increase in the number of the city's inhabitants.

A population of between 2,300,000 and 2,600,000—this is the estimate made by Chicago authorities in touch with the statistics of population.

All the Chicago men interviewed agreed that the federal estimate of 2,049,185 is far too low.

Robert C. Givins, president of the Chicago Three Million Club, who is thoroughly familiar with population statistics, made the biggest estimate of all the experts, placing the present size of Chicago at 3,000,000.

R. H. Donnelly, manager of the Chicago Directory Company, estimated the present population on a conservative basis to 2,300,000.

Chief Clerk George Powell of the city's computation made the same estimate as Mr. Donnelly.

Hugo Grosser, city statistician, in a recent report found that the city had at least 2,451,662 people. Mr. Grosser took for the basis of that estimate the 1900 federal census, which is declared "admittedly too low."

GIVINS TAKES EXCEPTIONS.

"I do not believe that Chicago has had anything like a fair census taken of her population for a very long time," said Mr. Givins.

The United States census of 1900 was a farce. The school board again has run the population up and down in all kinds of ways in one instance making out that the city had actually lost in population.

"As a matter of fact, the population of Chicago is vastly in excess of any census that has been taken. The voting registration, the number of names in the city directory, the marvelous building era, the wonderful increase in traffic as to local transportation, the increased attendance at the theaters, the doubling of attendance at numerous churches—all these things indicate a tremendous advance."

The city directory of 1906 gives 716,100 names. I will have it to any reasonable citizen in one of four ways of our men, women and children get their names in the city directory. Multiplying even by four, however, gives us a present population of 2,864,400. In New York the multiple is five for every name in the directory of Greater New York.

REGISTRATION NOT FAIR.

The registration cannot be given fairly as a means of comparing populations as between us and New York. One-quarter of a million adult males in this city have not been in the country long enough to vote. The proportion is nothing like so big in New York. I believe that in a few years Chicago will show a registration almost equal to New York.

"I am of the opinion that today, if we had a fair and exact count of every man, woman and child resident in Chicago, it would be shown we had a population of 3,000,000."

Mr. Donnelly agreed that the federal estimate was too low.

"I am very strongly of the opinion," he said, "that an estimate of 2,040,000 is far too small."

In making an estimate I discard the federal census of 1900 entirely, as that census was an absurdity. I take the census of 1890 and arrive at my figures by taking the proportion which prevailed at that time between the names in the city directory and the whole population. On that basis I get a present population of 2,300,000 and that estimate, I firmly believe, is exceedingly conservative."

"PNEUMONIA'S DEADLY WORK had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fauna Conroy, of Rural Route, Georgetown, Texas, "that I thought pneumonia might end my life, and the neighbors' prediction seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be a miracle. It cured me, and restored me to health again. When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battles against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL remedy, guaranteed by Osgood Drugs, 740 Broadway, and corner 12th and Washington Sts., 50¢ and $1.00. LATEST NEWS FROM NEVADA GOLDFIELDS

SEARCHLIGHT Nev., April 8.—Estimating that for the next six months mining development in the Searchlight district equal to that for the six months just passed, the production of Lincoln county bids fair to outstrip any other portion of the State.

During the past six months some hundred and fifty mining companies have come into existence in the district, the majority by purchase of existing properties and others through location. In every instance good surface showings have been encountered, and despite the short period between acquisition of territory and beginning of operation, a vast majority of these concerns have prosecuted considerable development. There are few instances where workings have gone below two hundred feet, and such workings have demonstrated primarily the possibilities underlying the surfaces.

To date no effort has been made to extend development in fact with the prospect of workings being carried on possible on any extended scale, as in the majority of instances the workings have only served to display the dimensions of ore shoots and ledges, and give some idea of the richness of the veins.

Thus it might be said that mining in and around Searchlight is in its infancy, despite the fact that a number of good mines capable of producing great wealth, have been developed on this small scale.

Each day reports of new and rich strikes come in from every quarter of the district, yet one hears little of shipment or sale of ore, or of mining products and others through location. In every instance good surface showings have been encountered, and despite the short period between acquisition of territory and beginning of operation, a vast majority of these concerns have prosecuted considerable development. On some days there are but three tides, the usual fourth tide occurring the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the plane of the sea level. Readings of the numbers of places are given to the right of the depth unless preceded by the minus sign or dash (-), when the numbers are subtractive from depths given on the chart.

ADE IS LOSER COOL THOUSAND EXPEND FUNDS SATISFACTORILY

Fruit Trees Are Shipped to Pasadena Instead of to Ohio Farm.

PASADENA, April 8.—Through an error on the part of someone a carload of fruit trees ordered for George Ade's farm at Brooks, Ohio, from a Dayton, Ohio, nurseryman, arrived yesterday in Pasadena by express. Accompanying the consignment was an express charge of $1000. The consignment included fruit trees of all varieties as well as some very fine specimens of Concord grape vines. An entire car was required to transport the lot.

After recovering from the shock Ade put the best face possible upon the affair and donated the entire lot to the management of Hotel Maryland, at which he is staying. They will be planted in the hotel grounds.

SHIPWRECKED CREW IS SAFE BIG FORTUNE FOR MILL MAN

More Disaster Stories About Recent Storm off Hatteras.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Nearly every vessel that has arrived from Southern ports during the past week has brought some story of marine disaster wrought by the tornado off Hatteras during the last ten days of March. The Bluecher, arriving from West Indian ports, is the exception. Stranded in dismasted groups on her deck were fifteen persons whom the liner had saved from the foundering Gulf Port, as the vessel was on the verge of going down. The rescue was witnessed by Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and others of the congressional party on board the Bluecher.

Those taken by the lifeboat of the liner from water-logged vessel were near starvation, as for nearly a week they had had nothing to eat except a few water-soaked biscuits.

The Bluecher altered her course on Thursday to head for a wreck that had been sighted. The passengers hurriedly quitted the breakfast table and gathered on deck to see the crew of the bark clustered about the aft rails. Little difficulty attended the work of rescue. The lifeboat in charge of Chief Officer Larson was lowered from the Bluecher and rowed to the wreck. Into it went Captain Larson of the bark and twelve members of his crew and in a short time the refugees were safely on board the Bluecher.

CONSTANTINE MAY GO FREE COURT ENJOINS STOCKBROKER

Chicago's Famous Murder Trial Points to Accused's Immediate Liberty.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Constantine will be cleared of the charge of having murdered Mrs. Arthur Gentry of Chicago. The trial will develop many surprising details, at this time unknown to the police or the public. The confession he has made to the Brooklyn police will not figure by the court as prayed for.

In these words Attorney Manton, counsel for Frank J. Constantine, charged with the murder of Mrs. Arthur W. Gentry in Chicago, intimated that the Constantine case would be one of Chicago's most famous murder trials. Manton left this afternoon for Chicago, where he will employ local counsel to look after the interests of his client while his presence in New York is necessary. It is expected Constantine will be taken to Chicago Monday.

TRAVEL TALKS OF THE GRAND CANYON

A two-step contest that is to last a week and that promises to bring out the best talent in that line that the local roller skating world affords is to begin at the Idora Park skating rink tonight. There are to be several prizes for the winning couples and the competition for the honors and the substantial rewards promises to be extremely keen.

For the couple that proves most proficient in two-stepping Manager Alberga has offered gold medals to each; for the winners of the second prize there are two pairs of handsome, nickel-plated roller skates; for the third best couple there are two commemoration tickets to the ring.

The struggle for first place will be on every night of the week and the judges will select the best of the contestants each night to remain in the fight and the as the week wanes the competition will grow more and more ardent. Several dozen accomplished skaters have signified their intention of entering the contests and from the indications there is a difficult task in store for the judges.

The Idora Park Wanderers scored another victory over the Oakland High School Independents in the newly-introduced game of roller-skate football Friday night, winning by the close score of two goals to one. The game has taken the heart and the affection of Oakland's sport lovers and promises to be the rage. Another contest is to be arranged in the near future.

UNION MEN ARE NOW IN FAVOR OF REORGANIZATION Hold Mass-Meeting in San Francisco and Oppose the Actions of P. H. McCarthy.

McCarthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—At a mass meeting held yesterday afternoon in Walton's Pavilion, 1000 union men met and organized a revolt against the authority of the Building Trades Council and P. H. McCarthy. A resolution to the effect that a reorganization of the council should be effected at once, because of the expulsion of Local Union No. 6 is given a fair trial by the Building Trades Council, we, as union men, refuse to be called off jobs where members of Local No. 6 are working.

The mass meeting was called by the electricians and all members of building mechanics' unions in good standing were invited to participate. There were many hodcarriers, carpenters, plasterers, tilelayers, etc., present. In addition to a majority of the members of the Electrical Workers' Union.

C. E. Jackson was elected chairman and George Russell secretary of the meeting.

OUTLINES CASE.

Albert E. Cohn of the committee from No. 6 stated the object of the meeting and revolved the trouble between the electrical workers and the Building Trades Council. He said the members of No. 6 had individually held out for more than the minimum wage scale, but that no action had been taken nor strike declared by the electricians as a union. The Building Trades Council had taken the view that the union was responsible for the demands made by its members and had expelled the union without fair trial, Cohn said. For this action he blamed P. H. McCarthy, declaring that Electrical Mechanics' Union No. 1, which had been organized by McCarthy, was composed of "scabs," strike-breakers and incompetent men from all over the country who could not get more wages than the minimum provided for in the union scale.

Cohn then introduced a resolution condemning the action of the Building Trades Council and it was adopted unanimously. It is as follows:

"Whereas, It has been clearly demonstrated within the past week that Local Union No. 6 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers cannot get a fair trial before the present officials of the Building Trades Council, and as it has been clearly demonstrated that P. H. McCarthy is working solely in the interest of the Contractors' Association, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting of building trades members that a reorganization of the Building Trades Council be effected at once."

E. B. Cosey of Carpenters' Union No. 6 offered an amendment which was rejected. It was as follows:

"Resolved, That until such time as Local Union No. 6 is given a fair trial by the Building Trades Council, we, as union men, refuse to be called off jobs where members of Local No. 6 are working."

Anthony McGinty of the hodcarriers said that McCarthy had a machine similar to those at the command of "Ruef and Tammany Hall" and that he was using this machine to benefit himself and his capitalistic friends at the expense of the laboring men. McGinty advocated depositing McCarthy at once.

R. H. Harland, President of the District Council of Carpenters of Alameda county, stated that the unions he represented were heartily in favor of the plan of reorganization and would stand by the electrical workers.

Many other assurances of support were given and a resolution was adopted providing that three members of each local in the building industry be appointed "for the purpose of effecting ways and means to reform the Building Trades Council."

The mass meeting was then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Vice President M. J. Sullivan yesterday received a telegram from Grand President McNulty saying that McNulty would meet President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor on Tuesday. It is probable that these officials will discuss the status of the electrical workers in the present controversy. Local No. 6 operates under a charter of the American Federation of Labor and its officials claim that the Building Trades Council is therefore responsible to the national body for expelling No. 6. The officials of the council do not recognize the authority of the federation in the matter.

P. H. McCarthy said last night that his organization did not recognize the electrical workers of No. 6 and that so far as he was concerned they had been swept off the earth by the action of the council.

He characterized the meeting yesterday afternoon as a gathering of Socialists, referring especially to Smith of the San Francisco carpenters and Harland of the Oakland carpenters.
